Announcing new SageMaker API functionality & online lab added to Teradata Vantage and Amazon SageMaker

The Amazon SageMaker API functionality that was added as part of the Vantage 2.4 release is now part of this one-hour WBT with online labs that are designed to predict the Remaining Useful Life (RUL) of aircraft gas turbine engines for the purpose of predictive/preventative maintenance prior to an engine failure using damage propagation data. The student will be expected to access data from Teradata Vantage on AWS, model data in Amazon SageMaker, and store model results in Teradata

Vantage on AWS.

This course has a hands-on lab in AWS (available in minutes) where the student will write data to Amazon S3 storage using the database's WRITE_NOS function, run code using Amazon SageMaker Studio to train an XGBoost model, and create engine failure predictions using either an AWS Endpoint or the Bring Your Own Model (BYOM) workflow with in-database scoring.
